What really happened on the Moon on July 27? Dr. Katharine Milano returns to Exopolitics Today with an extraordinary account of what she says was a surprise Dark Fleet attack on Lunar Operations Command on the far side of the Moon. According to Milano, three waves of Dark Fleet spacecraft entered Earth's vicinity through temporal "time bubbles" and launched a coordinated assault against Space Force forces stationed around the Moon. She says the attack caused devastating losses before other extraterrestrial groups intervened. What really happened on the Moon on July 27? Dr. Katharine Milano returns to Exopolitics Today with an extraordinary account of what she says was a surprise Dark Fleet attack on Lunar Operations Command on the far side of the Moon. According to Milano, three waves of Dark Fleet spacecraft entered Earth's vicinity through temporal "time bubbles" and launched a coordinated assault against Space Force forces stationed around the Moon. She says the attack caused devastating losses before other extraterrestrial groups intervened. But the story gets even bigger. Milano says the Dark Fleet may have made a catastrophic mistake. By launching the attack after a major galactic peace agreement had already been reached, they allegedly violated the treaty without realizing it. That miscalculation, she says, may now have opened the door for positive extraterrestrial civilizations to move against remaining Dark Fleet forces throughout the galaxy. Dr. Michael Salla and Katharine also discuss Lunar Operations Command, Space Force communications, Ceres, Antarctica, the Ashtar Command, the Irma, Solar Warden, mysterious observations near the Moon, and several unusual events that occurred shortly after the alleged attack. If Katharine's information is accurate, July 27 may have marked far more than a battle around the Moon. It may have been a turning point in a much larger conflict. Watch the full interview and decide for yourself what these extraordinary claims could mean for Earth and the future of our solar system.

DR. SALLA: Dr. Katharine Milano is an extraterrestrial contact team. She has also worked with a secret space program known as the Dark Fleet. She is a galactic envoy and is in communication with the Ashtar Command and recently she established communications with some US Space Force officers on the Moon who have been sharing some amazing details about what is happening currently on the Moon. Well, welcome back to the show, Katharine.
KATHARINE: Michael, thank you so much for having me. It's good to be back.
DR. SALLA: Well, we have done a couple of interviews and we talked about your connections with the Dark Fleet, the Ashtar Command. So maybe we should start by you just kind of like reminding viewers, you're kind of like, I guess 20 and back or your service with the Dark Fleet and your realization that you were a galactic envoy with the Ashtar Command.
KATHARINE: Sure. So I was woken up very late and that was all intentional, but I am an Ashtar envoy. I have a counterpart upstairs.

His name is Lear Han, Lear Han, and I've been in pretty strong communication with him for about the last two years. I did about two 20 and backs that I know of, but I recently found out that I have an altar who's on Mars. So sometimes I get visuals of what she's doing and it's making me think, I don't know, am I in another 20 and back that remains to be seen. Let's see what else. Yes, I would say that one of the things that's really important for your viewers to know in terms of how I'm receiving this information is that I have quantum plasma telepathy. And I don't know if you want me to explain what that is. I'm happy to do that.

DR. SALLA: Oh sure. Yes, I mean, just to remind people that you are a, let's say, a communication specialist or you're at least getting a lot of telepathic communications from these different organizations.

KATHARINE: Sure. And I am. I'm a communications conduit for both Ashtar and now Space Force. So quantum plasma telepathy essentially means that my consciousness is functioning on various different densities at the same time. So essentially right now, this is my 3D 5D human self. I have a 6D Pleiadian self and she's the one who came in through Ashtar and incarnated here. I have an 8D Irma self and then it keeps going up. I have an Elohim aspect. I have an Anunnaki aspect. And I'm there. They're active there. Since I'm able to speak with them and experience them at the same time, it allows my telepathy to go into quantum levels.

So I'm able to receive information not just from Ashtar and now Space Force, but I'm in contact with a lot of different star nations and groups that are in our solar system. So I get messages from anywhere from I'm in contact with the Swaroos, a Hoshmolem ship, Anishina beamship. I actually have somebody in the Confederation of Planets I speak to. I speak to a lot of different ships. So it's really fun and it's exciting, but it's a lot of information and I'm able to translate it pretty rapidly given the quantum nature of my telepathy.

DR. SALLA: Right. And just to remind people, you're also a clinical psychologist. So you help people to kind of like sort out their own memories and get over any trauma associated with those memories and you had to go through your own process too. So that's quite remarkable.

KATHARINE: Yes, it was interesting. I am a trauma therapist. I work with the PTSD, all the trauma disorders. So I had this baseline for understanding how to recover memories. So when I got my SSP memories back, which was a little over a year ago, I was able to use those techniques to kind of get the memories back and know that they were valid and not fabricated. So it's been helpful.

DR. SALLA: Great. All right. So very recently you established contact or telepathic communications with some US Space Force officers stationed on the moon. So why don't you explain how that happened?

KATHARINE: Sure. That was about five months ago. And it was actually about a week after our last interview, I was telepathically pinged by Space Force and they identified themselves as Space Force and they basically said we'd like to offer you this position, if you're open to it, to be a communications conduit for us. And of course I said yes. And then this is about a 10 minute interaction. And then they explained what that would actually involve and was I going to be willing to be up for it? I said yes again.

And then they cut the communication off and I anytime I receive a new telepathic link with somebody, I'm very discerning. You have to be very discerning and you have to be skeptical and you have to kind of go over in your mind. What is this a real telepathic link? So they were able to do a couple different things to validate that with me almost immediately. And I can go into that if you'd like. It's a bit of a story, but I don't know. Would you like me to explain how that happened?

DR. SALLA: Well, I think it would be actually very interesting for people to know more about how that link is established and why you believe it's accurate as opposed to being some kind of MK Ultra or some kind of like voice to skull deception.

KATHARINE: Okay, great. No, that's very important. And I know a lot of people's telepathy is coming online, so I'd love to explain it. So the telepathy that you're going to experience with positively oriented extraterrestrials and or humans, it's more heart centered. It's there's a resonance that you can feel here. So like with V2K, it's actually a voice and it's there's nothing that goes down on here. And say, for example, if the grays are communicating with you, and I know a lot of people, a lot of actually famous people who are on YouTube, they're actually communicating with grays.

And when the grays communicate with you, you don't feel it down here. The gray communications are very hollow. And when I speak with, for example, Ashtar and the different beings that I speak to with Ashtar, I can feel them. I know that it's them. They all have different energy signatures, and you have to work with them over time to develop that relationship, that telepathic relationship so that you can discern. Because I'll give an example with Leer Han, my counterpart. I know who he is. I've been working with him for a long time. But a lot of times they being, the bad guys, will send in mimics to try to pretend that it's Leer Han. And over time, I've been able to like discern them and mix and just shut them out because there's no there's no resonance in the heart space. And so that's the same thing with Space Force is over time I had to work with them.
There are two people that I work with in Space Force, and I can give you more information on that. But I've worked with them over the last five months to establish that telepathic relationship. And I know exactly how they feel. Like I, in any given moment, whenever they're talking to me, I know it's them because of that energetic signature that's unique to them and I can feel it now.
DR. SALLA: So why don't you kind of like explain how they establish contact and how you were able to confirm that this was really US Space Force as opposed to voice to skull or mimics or anything like that?
KATHARINE: Sure. I mean, the first one, and I'll just keep this brief after we had that initial 10-minute conversation. And I was I'm always skeptical and is this really Space Force. So Space Force works directly with Ashtar. Leer Han is Ashtar. They had Leer Han I'm working with Erica Amarena. She's also Ashtar and she knows Leer Han.
They actually sent Leer Han over to Erica. And she had no idea what I was talking to Space Force. And they had, Leer Han had her send me a text. This is five minutes after I cut off communication with them. She sent me a text saying Leer Han wants you to ask about Space Force. And these guys do that a lot with Erica and I, they'll have it, they'll have us get a download and send the text right away. We have a whole vetting process.

So that was my initial, okay, maybe this is probably real. But following that, I had to work with the two individuals I work with. And I just want to explain who they are because there are two people who sit in a comms booth up on lunar operations command. And I can see the comms booth. And I know like exactly what they're what they're doing to have call signs. So there's one, there's zero dark 30 and he's the lead on this. He's a former Navy SEAL. That's why he likes the name zero dark 30. And there's Moon Shine. She's former Air Force current Space Force.
So I had to, after that initial conversation, we had to go through this process of speaking to them both at the same time, speaking to them individually. And they would give me, well, they the process of doing this, they would give me these kind of words and these turned into authorization codes. And the words or the kind of information that they were giving me, I had no idea what it meant. Well, let me say this. They actually made, one of the things they had me do is they had to read Space Force.
So because I had no idea anything that was going on with Space Force. So they would give me like words and codes or they'd give me information. And I had no context for it. And then they'd have me look it up in Space Force to understand that it was real. So that was one of the ways that they that they would get me to understand that it was really Space Force. But also they give me visuals.
I can see lunar operations command, just like parts of it, the parts they're willing to show me. But yes, it's stuff like that. I have these series of when I engage with them, I have to go through this authorization protocol. And they've given me a bunch of different words and phrases that when we initiate the authorization protocol, I'm not allowed to speak them out loud, but they all have meaning, right? They all have meaning related to Space Force and Space Force activities. And I don't know anything.
So when they give me these codes, they have me look it up. And it's inevitably something that's very meaningful to Space Force. So that's one of the ways I hope that makes sense. Yes. I mean, memorize the military alphabet. And I'm still really wobbly on it, which they're giving me a hard time for. And all of these codes have to be recited in the military alphabet.

DR. SALLA: Right. Okay. Well, it's very interesting that first you've got Leer Han, your counterpart in the galactic envoy program who confirms that this is a real connection. And then you have Erica Amorina, who is also a galactic envoy and I've done some interviews with Erica. And she's explained how she also is in telepathic communications with them.

And so she was able to independently confirm that yes, you're in communication. Well, she got the message from Leer Han that you're in communication with the Space Force officers.

So, okay, so let's now move to the kind of base that they're serving at, which you've mentioned, Lunar Operations Command. So what have they told you about Lunar Operations Command and what's happening there?

KATHARINE: Well, there, so there was a huge event that happened on July 27th. And I don't know if you want me to go directly into that. I will say that I have, I'm not authorized at this point. They're very strict, right? I didn't anticipate them having me come forth with a message yet. But this was a very serious event. So they've authorized me to speak about this message. Do you want me to just go right into that?

DR. SALLA: Well, just before you explain what happened on July 27th, just give the viewer an idea of where these efforts officers are stationed. What is Lunar Operations Command? Where is it?

KATHARINE: Well, it's on the moon. It's a big base on the moon and it wasn't always in the Space Force hands. It was, I think, about a year and a half ago, there was a big ceremony that they changed hands. And so it's Lunar Operations Command has been around for a really long time. But now it's in the hands of Space Force and the Alliance and the good guys.

So when I speak with Zero Dark 30 and Moon Shine, they sit in a calm spot, like a communication spot. It's a really small room. And they both wear these kind of headsets, like goggles and there's something that goes around their head. And that is, I want to get the word right. It's a scalar interface, like a brain wave to scalar interface.

And what that means is that these headsets are basically measuring their brain waves. And in front of them in this room is a rectangular kind of square. It's like a pad and that's a scalar modulator.
So their brain waves are scanned and processed through the scalar modulator. And that is, can be projected, their telepathy can be projected directly into my consciousness. So I don't understand like the quantum physics of how that works, but that's the technology that they're using.
DR. SALLA: Okay, so they're based on, at this Lunar Operations Command, which previous insiders have said is an old German Dark Fleet base that was reconverted and handed over to say the US branch of the Secrets Base program. And it's been, well handed over again to the US Space Force, and that it's on the far side of the moon.
Oh yes, that's on the far side of the moon. Yes, that's exactly. And it's also very large. Now, when you are in communication, now, have you ever been to Lunar Operations Command? I mean, have you, do you know, I know it's supposed to have multiple levels and each level has various things happening there?
KATHARINE: I have in my first 20 back and also my second 20 back, I have memories of going up to Lunar Operations Command. And that's when it was in control of the Germans, the Dark Fleet and whatnot.
So I have memories of being, it is goes down really far. And I just, I have brief memories of being in there. So yes, I've definitely been there before. And the Lunar Operations Command is interesting. I just don't have all the memories and I don't want to inaccurately describe it. But yes, I've definitely been there many times.
DR. SALLA: All right. So why don't you now just explain what happened or what they told you happened on July 27, which is just a little over two weeks ago.
KATHARINE: Right. So on July 27 they came in, I got pinged. They have a series of sounds that are unique to me. I got pinged and Zero

Dark 30 contacted me to let me know that it's so hard to describe. And it's really, it's really a difficult situation that something was going on upstairs. And I should also mention that over time, so I work with Erica Amarena and they pinged her at the same time. She's been able to establish a telepathic link with Zero Dark 30.
So he also pinged her at the same time and let her know that there was something going on up there. And then just visually, she and I got the same exact images. It was that Dark Fleet essentially entered Earth's orbit on July 27th. And they entered in three waves of ships. So they entered through a time bubble, a temporal pocket, and they entered at 8:12 p.m. Pacific time, 873 waves of ships, the 8:17 p.m. Pacific time, and 8:32 p.m. Pacific time. And they just, they had planned that attack. They came in through a temporal bubble. This had been planned way in the past using looking glass technology because they had identified July 27th as a specific date when a huge conference was happening. And I can't get into that conference as you want, if you want. But the first wave of Dark Fleet ships went straight for Lunar Operations Command. And that was intentional because we're currently surrounded by all these positive extraterrestrial ships. And there are rules of engagement for hot war conflicts off-world.
So what we're trying to understand, and I'm talking about ASHTAR and Space Force, the assumption here is that they went straight for Lunar Operations Command just because they knew that if they had fired on any of the E.T. ships, they would have been obliterated out of the sky immediately.
And so they were just targeting humans. And they went to the Lunar Operations Command and they started space fleet scrambled their ships and started engaging in a combat situation immediately. And it's really hard to say, I'm sorry if it takes me a while because it's difficult. Space Force fleets, the ones who were engaging with Dark Fleet were just getting obliterated with that first wave of ships.
So then the second wave of ships came in at 8:17 pm and say here's the fighting. That second wave of ships just went right around the fighting and went to directly target all the space fleet that was stationed on and around Lunar Operations Command. So initially it looks like they're just going for Space Force and trying to take out all the Space Force fleets. And they were successful.

They were able to destroy about 72% of the Space Force fleet that was stationed on the surface and around Lunar command on the Moon. But they also were able, that's including the craft that were scrambled to engage with the Dark Fleet. So there were a lot of casualties in that initial battle. And I don't know if you want me to continue or it's a long, long situation, very complex. Oh, I can't hear you.
DR. SALLA: So yes, I'll ask you about some of the details that you mentioned. One of them was that this attack that happened in three waves by the Dark Fleet occurred by them coming through these time bubbles. So maybe you want to explain a little bit about what are these time bubbles that enables them to just suddenly show up. And also a little more explanation about the meeting or the big meeting that was happening that this attack was supposed to in some way disrupt or impact in some way because I've had I just recently released an interview with George Kavassilas where he talked about a big galactic meeting that happened on Epsilon Eridani. But there was also corresponding meetings in our solar system and on the Earth itself. So yes, is that what this attack was supposed to disrupt in some way?
KATHARINE: Well, it wasn't meant to disrupt it. The Dark Fleet came in, they had very specific intentions. They wanted to take back the solar system. Specifically, they wanted to take back Ceres which had switched there was a revolution on Ceres in November 2025 and the Dark Fleet, the Fourth Reich, had been overthrown by more positively oriented individuals, the Fifth Reich.
So they wanted to take back Ceres, they wanted to take back the Dark Fleet lunar base, and they really specifically wanted to come down to Antarctica to take that they were just trying to take back the solar system. That was their intention. But in terms of the time bubbles, again, these guys have been engaging in a temporal war for a long time.
So I'm not sure when they created them, but they created like these little pockets of time through which they could enter. And I don't like again, just conceptually, I don't understand exactly how that works. But yes, the time bubbles are just pockets of time where they can actually they can enter. They could do a lot of different things through the time bubbles. And I don't know exactly how they're created. It's a little bit beyond my comprehension. But back to, I want to go back to this idea, why did they come in on July 27th?

So I haven't watched George's material, but he's correct about the Treaty of Eridani. It's like this biggest galactic peace treaty that happened, I believe, mid-June. And there have been conferences all over the place. On July 27th, there was a huge, huge conference that occurred here, actually in Sedona. There's a huge Ashtar base here. There's a federation base. And they often, whenever they have their conferences, they come to Sedona because the frequency is so high, it's easier for them to function here.

So on July 27th, there was a huge conference for the New Earth Coalition. And the New Earth Coalition, I couldn't explain more about that, but it's this conference, I mean, everybody who's everybody in the in the galaxy was here. And it's funny, because I live in Sedona, and I was watching the Ashtar base. I can see it from out my window. And there were all these cloaked ships above.

So I was asking, hey, what are you guys here for? And they told me it was a conference on the New Earth Coalition. So that's the date that they picked. And the Dark Fleet, specifically with looking glass technology, picked that date. We're assuming that they picked it because they figured like all the extraterrestrials would be otherwise occupied and distracted. So that's why they pinpointed that date. I want to make sure that we're on the same page and you can ask more questions.

DR. SALLA: Yes. Sure. Okay. So I understand that the Dark Fleet, they had been pushed out of our solar system because of the recent intervention and the emergence of Space Force, space command, and the efforts of organizations like the Galactic Federation and the Ashtar command helped the white hats to take over our solar system and pushed out the Dark Fleet from their previous control over Antarctica, Ceres, and other parts of the solar system.

So it sounds like they're wanting to come back, but they're doing it in a way where they're not going to have the extraterrestrial organizations kind of like attack them, the attack on the moon base. And we were just kind of like getting an idea of the dynamics in the attack. And we got cut out. I mean, my internet just went totally down. So yes, any response to that, Katharine? I mean, what do you think that was all about?

KATHARINE: Oh, I know that that was an attack. That's what they do that I get attacked so often. And I know, yes, they took us down. They didn't want us talking about that information because it's sensitive information. And this that happens to me all the time when I try to talk about these things, I get attacked with directed energy weapons. It's because I have legitimate information and they don't want it coming out. So that's I know that that's what happened.

DR. SALLA: Yes, well, I was on the receiving end of that attack because my internet went down in the middle of an interview and that just doesn't happen. I mean, it's very rare. And the interview is discussing this moon base attack. So let's resume. Now, I was asking you the question, why did the hashtag command decide and the UMA and maybe explain who the UMA are? Why did they decide to intervene and to help the US Space Force, given that the Dark Fleet made a point of not attacking any of the extraterrestrial facilities? Well, so it's interesting. Ashtar command, and this is very specific.

KATHARINE: . It's complicated. There are rules of engagement in terms of hot war conflicts that happen in the world. So the whole goal of what was happening without going into this part of it, Ashtar defended the moon and Ashtar was in a position where they could do only defensive maneuvers to defend the moon. They couldn't go on the offense. And that's because the whole, I should say this, in 2022, Ashtar used the coronavirus visor to look at projected timelines. And they found this one node of all these projected timelines where this attack happens on July 27 through the Dark Fleet.

So in 2022, Ashtar went around and they went on a bunch of missions to close all of these time bubbles. And what they tell me is they thought that they got all the time bubbles, but clearly they didn't. So there was a contingency plan in case this attack happened. And they so essentially, Ashtar could not take offensive measures on the Dark Fleet because that would have brought the conflict to Earth. In these projected timelines, there was one timeline where the Dark Fleet actually got onto Earth and got Antarctica. And that would have been disastrous for the Earth.

So all of which is to say, Ashtar could not take offensive measures because Ashtar has bases all over the Earth. And Ashtar is part of the New Earth Coalition. And had Ashtar engaged offensively, that would have provided a leverage point for the Dark Fleet on Earth to bring the conflict down on Earth. There, I'm missing a point here, it's so complicated. When the first wave of Dark Fleet ships entered Earth's orbit, there was a signal that went out to every person all throughout the solar system who was affiliated with the Dark Fleet. So Dark Fleet operatives who are still on Earth were activated. It's very complicated. So it had Ashtar engaged offensively, the Dark Fleet on Earth would have been able to engage Ashtar on the Earth in an Earth-bound war. So the whole point of this is to keep this off of Earth. There are other extraterrestrial star nations who also were in the same position, they couldn't engage the Dark Fleet directly. Now the Irma, the Irma are the beings from Vega, they're feline, they have a formidable military. And they are the ones, they don't have as much of a presence on Earth.

So they are also, they don't acquiesce to the Federation's rules so much, and they're very, very active in taking down the cabal. They're the ones who go on the front lines. And I know that there was the V-air, a ship, which is an Andromeda ship, which is stationed behind the moon. I don't know when it happened, but the Irma were the ones that got infiltrated by the cabal, the Irma were the ones and took out the cabal.

So the Irma are very motivated to engage in these types of conflicts. And because they didn't have as much of a presence on Earth, the Irma were the only ones who could really engage the Dark Fleet because then the whole battle doesn't come onto Earth. I hope that explains in a nutshell what happened because I can explain what other star nations were involved, but essentially, conceptually, that's what was going on.

DR. SALLA: Okay. I mean, that gives us an idea. And it's very interesting that they wanting the Dark Fleet wants to regain control over Antarctica. That Antarctica is now under the control of, I guess, the Space Force, the Space Command, and it's being used by the Earth Alliance.

KATHARINE: So I also don't understand exactly why Antarctica is so important, but the message that I keep getting is that telepathically is he who controls Antarctica controls the Earth. So whatever, for whatever reason, like, that's the pivot point. That's the part of Earth that if you can control Antarctica, you can control the Earth.

So again, I'm not maybe somebody else knows why Antarctica is so important, but this whole conflict and the contingency plan that had been developed should the by Ashtar and the Alliance was 100% just designed to keep this thing from coming to Earth.

DR. SALLA: Now, you in your update or notes to this, a tab, you mentioned that the Dark Fleet didn't take the Epsilon-Eridani agreement into account that they somehow didn't know that that had been reached. And so this is a miscalculation on their part, which actually can have some dire consequences for them in terms of them now being seen as violating this treaty, which I guess establishes peace throughout the galaxy.

KATHARINE: Yes, this is actually very important. So this is the problem when you're engaging in a temporal war, the time war. You can make projections about what you're going to do, but you may have lost some information or not been aware of some information. So yes, the Treaty of Dara Eridani is one of the biggest galactic peace agreements. I don't want to be too hyperbolic, but it's a huge galactic peace agreement signed about mid-July. Again, that's George Kavassilas. Let's going to tell you a lot more about that.

So when these guys, though in the Dark Fleet, enter through the time bubble, they were unaware that the Treaty of Eridani had been signed. So by coming through this time bubble, like maybe two weeks after it had been signed, being totally unaware, they violated the Treaty of Eridani. So they violated this galactic peace agreement, meaning that that gives free reign for all the positive extraterrestrials to go ahead and take out the Dark Fleet everywhere they are in the galaxy. Now the thing about that is that the positive ETs use violence as a last resort.

So the positive ETs, wherever the Dark Fleet is in the galaxy, they have been trying to engage the Dark Fleet in negotiations for surrender. However, the Dark Fleet that these guys are so psychotic at this point, because they're so removed from Source that they are not negotiating terms of surrender and instead are militarily engaging the positive ETs.

What I will say is that I've heard that the Farsight remote viewers recently identified a huge galactic war that's going on. And they got this one right. There is a huge galactic war that's going on, but it's a good thing. And what it is, it's the positive ETs engaging the Dark Fleet wherever they are and basically blowing them out of the water. So on a large galactic scale, this is a good thing because the Dark Fleet is just being taken out left and right across the galaxy.

DR. SALLA: Okay, well, the Dark Fleet then, I mean, they launched this surprise attack on this major base on the moon that's controlled by Space Force and they destroy approximately 72% of the Space Force's fleet up there. So what kind of craft were part of the fleet? And how big are we talking about? What was the size of the fleet to start with?

KATHARINE: I don't have the exact specs on it because I just, I can just see it visually, what's happening. I'd have to get back in touch with Space Force and they'd give you the exact numbers. But what I'm seeing is they have craft that are designed to be militarily engaged, but they also have other types of craft that were just kind of stationed there. And I can't give you the exact specs on that. If I, I'll get back in touch with Space Force and find out if I can get more information on that. But what I would say to that is that this wasn't Space Force's only fleet. They're not, they're not stupid. They have fleets that are in other systems Alpha Centauri being one of them. So they didn't get the entire fleet. It was just, it was just this particular it's just everything that was stationed around the moon. But when I see it visually, the smaller crafts, like the ones that militarily engage, those were, I'm so sorry to say, completely decimated. A lot of people lost their lives.

And I just want to say if you're watching this video, this is all real. A lot of Space Force personnel lost their lives in this attack and just please take a moment to honor them and give gratitude. Okay, having said that, the other craft, what I'm seeing is that they're larger. I think they feel like they're more like transport craft they're meant to go and explore the solar system. But I don't know exactly the specs on exactly which craft we're taking out.
DR. SALLA: Now, maybe it would be also helpful to explain the role of the US Navy Secret Space Program called Solar Warden that has all these like, we call them, I guess, space carriers with fleets of craft on men. Now, this is entirely separate to Lunar Operations Command and the fleet that was attacked. Is that correct?
KATHARINE: I hadn't asked that question. I don't have clarity on that information. I want to bet it beforehand. I just got a yes that they were together. I don't know. I'm not understanding exactly what they're saying to me right now. So I don't want to put it out there and be wrong. Okay, all right.
DR. SALLA: Well, as far as there being this attack on the moon and the Dark Fleet kind of showing up in successive waves and doing this and violating a treaty that had just been signed around the same time in the process without their awareness, I mean, it raises a lot of questions and there's some kind of very interesting events on Earth that took place around the same time that, that I think kind of like indicate that there's something really important that did happen here. So I just want to connect what you've described to some real life events that have been happening here, which tend to support what you shared. So let's bring up this story about a group of astronomers from the Ukraine seeing observing a series of very large ships between 25 to 40 kilometers in size above the moon and them saying that this was part of a moon base.
So this came out after you put out your story. This, so you can see here, for example, Avi Loeb on his website, he's talking about this.

So this came out around August 8th and of course, what you described was an attack on July 27th.
So only a few days after that attack, we have this group of astronomers from the Ukraine releasing a peer-reviewed paper and I just wanted to show that for people. So here's the peer-reviewed paper that was released on a scientific website, observations of unidentified flying objects on the moon by these three Ukrainian astronomers and that came out after you did your initial report.
So I thought it was just very curious timing, a synchronicity if you like, but I find these synchronicities very helpful in terms of understanding whether these events really did happen as opposed to misinformation or something like that.
KATHARINE: Well, it's actually helping me to make sense of exactly what I'm seeing because how could we not the way that I'm seeing it or the way that I was shown? It's there would be no way for us to not have a visual on these ships.
DR. SALLA: So yes, okay, that's that makes that's clear side. Yes, and they describe these craft in the vicinity of the moon being very, very last 25 to 40 kilometers, which I would believe to be extraterrestrial craft maybe belonging to the Ashtar Command, to the Irma or some other civilization as opposed to craft belonging to KATHARINE: the Space Force. Yes, oh no, these aren't these are extraterrestrial craft for sure. I'm getting, Yes.
DR. SALLA: Now, as far as the question of Space Force and Solar Warden is concerned and you can correct me if I'm on the wrong track now, Space Force, as I understand it, really uses fleets of kind of smaller craft, whether we're talking TR3B, flying rectangles, spacecraft, or flying saucer. These are things that JP or Jorge Pabon has seen, that McDill Air Force base and so forth. These are kind of smaller craft that the US Air Force has been using in covert operations for years out of these facilities like Eglin Air Force Base, McDill Air Force Base and so forth.
Whereas the solar warden program that was set up by the Navy going back in the 1980s they use these very large space carriers that are like a mile in length with their own fleets. So kind of like a mirror of how you have a separation between the US Air Force with their fleets of craft, our fleets of F-22s, F-35s and all of that, with the United States Navy, which has its aircraft carriers like 10 aircraft carriers with their own wings, their own kind of like air wings. So even though they collaborate, they're completely separate. So as I understand it, Space Force and Solar Warden are completely separate.

KATHARINE: Okay, they're completely separate, but they, okay, I, as you know, I have come in very late and I'm blind to a lot of this stuff. What maybe what I'm seeing on the back of the moon, the craft that were destroyed were part of the, because they're bigger fleets, they look like almost like carriers like you would describe. So that's a possibility. Maybe that's what I'm looking at in terms of what got the second wave of ships that went around and just started taking out all the fleets on the back. That's a possibility. I'd have to get it before I would confirm.

DR. SALLA: But yes, again, that's a very interesting kind of like synchronicity that Ukrainian paper came out after you first reported on this. Now the other, because there are three developments that I thought were very interesting that all corroborate or connect with what you're saying. The other thing was that you release your report about this attack on July 28. But we also had a report about a SpaceX Falcon 9 rocket crashing on the moon. And this happened again in early August after your report came out.

So again, just another synchronicity here that there's a crash on the moon by a Falcon 9 rocket, apparently, somehow. I don't know how does that disease Falcon 9 rockets? They deliver satellites and astronauts to the International Space Station, Starlink, satellites, a couple of hundred miles above the moon. And maybe they deliver some geosynchronous satellites that are further out, 20,000, 30,000 miles. But the moon's like 230,000 miles away. How could a Falcon 9 upper stage crash on the moon? But yet we're given that report. So to me, I saw this and I think, is this a cover story?

KATHARINE: I did. That's my immediate read. Yes, it feels like a cover story. Yes, I just got a yes. That's that feels like a cover story. Oh, goodness. Okay. All right. So that's Oh, wow. Yes, that's that feels like something else.

DR. SALLA: Yes, this is a I didn't know the South Koreans had a satellite orbiting the moon, but apparently they do that they have satellite orbiting the moon. And they took pictures of this Falcon 9 upper stage crashing on the moon again in early August after you had reported this attack on the moon. So it does to me look like a cover story that they're kind of like putting in place a scenario that they can explain away reports like you're just giving. Yes, I just got a yes telepathically.
KATHARINE: Okay, yes, this is not a Falcon 9, essentially.
DR. SALLA: Okay. Yes, it's all very fishy that that they are kind of like, and making these announcements now. And there was an actual third development and before we began talking, you had some comments to say about this development. And that is that today, actually, when we're doing this recording, which is August 13, today, you have the retirement ceremony for the general in charge of the United States Space Force, a general Chance Salzman is retiring to while his official retirement, I think is when he hands up power to his successor. But today, he's actually having his retirement ceremony. And at the end of this month, his successor, the deputy commander, takes over. So what are the chances that chance Salzman is retiring soon after this attack on the moon? Is that just accidental?
KATHARINE: Well, listen, this is just my personal opinion, but looking like he took an early retirement there, you know what I mean? It just didn't as much to say somebody probably lost their job. I don't know why. but that is that is interesting.
DR. SALLA: Yes. So all these things, to my mind, then they're all kind of like corroborating or circumstantial evidence for what you described that the moon was attacked, that the lunar operations command, its fleets were destroyed in the large part by these three waves of Dark Fleet attack. That was a surprise. And you have these three events. You have the very large craft being observed above the moon being announced by three Ukrainian astronomers.
You have the SpaceX Falcon 9 rocket crash landing on the moon. And you have the retirement of Space Force Space Force's general chance Salzman just days after the moon lunar operations command was attacked.

So this is to me all pointing to that this attack was very real. And then again, in the midst of us doing this interview, my internet goes down, which is very, very rare. So you know, all of that makes me think that, well, we're there, smoke this fire.
KATHARINE: I'm right there with you, Michael. They don't want this coming out. And there's a lot of coverups. And it's interesting because finally we're getting these visuals on it. So I'm glad you brought those to my attention because it really confirms the information that I received.
DR. SALLA: So thank you. All right. So all of this has now happened. What can we expect? I mean, is there anything else that we need to know about if the moon base was devastated, the fleets destroyed in large part, but the Dark Fleet has been driven off and its attackers were largely destroyed by these friendly extraterrestrials like the Irma and the Ashtar command. What can what can we expect?
Because now, I mean, it's been announced that there's a galactic wide treaty preventing large scale hostilities between the draconian empire and their proxies with the Galactic Federation, Ashtar command and so forth. So what can we expect? Is this kind of like a one off surprise attack? And we shouldn't expect more or is there going to be trouble on other bases? You mentioned Ceres. You mentioned Mars.
KATHARINE: Well, Mars, it's interesting. Let me talk about Ceres. There are silver linings all over this because Ceres and first of all, lunar operations command is intact. They have good frequency shielding. Their base didn't get destroyed. The Fifth Reich lunar base on the moon is just completely decimated because all the sleeper cells that had been MK-Ultraed within the Fifth Reich lunar base, it's just destroyed. There was a huge, huge combat situation that erupted on that base. And the visual I have on it, they're probably it's barely functional.
They're probably going to have to rebuild. And the Fifth Reich is still in charge. Now on Ceres, it's even worse. Ceres, there had been Fourth Reich holdouts who were who were bunkered down in Ceres since the November 2025 revolution where the Fifth Reich overthrew the fourth Reich. And the word that I keep getting is bloodbath.

It was actually it was really bad on Ceres. And they were able to stabilize it. Currently Ceres is under martial law. And the silver lining here is that the Ceres German population after the November 2025 revolution, they had a lot of resistance to accepting the Fifth Reich governance on Ceres.
But now that the Dark Fleet came in and instigated this attack that really it killed a lot of the civilian population, the mindset of the Ceres Germans that live in Ceres has shifted from and they're much more in favor of the fifth Reich.
So it's absolutely tragic what happened. But that the Dark Fleet would come in and attack Ceres and be willing to take out their own civilian population has really shifted the mindset there.
So it's a bit of a silver lining there. But ultimately, I mean, and I will also say that when the Dark Fleet came in and they pinged every single Dark Fleet operative within the solar system, now Ashtar and the Alliance has all of the locations of those people.
So right now there's like a cleanup mission to go and arrest these people, extract them. And because we have their locations, we found everybody who was in hiding. The one thing that Ashtar is concerned about are there any more time bubbles, but they were able to get through they had to they had to go and find the coordinates of the time bubbles. A lot of the debris from the Dark Fleet that got destroyed by the Irma was left in the atmosphere in the Ashtar. Any other ones, the other positive ETs went in and sifted through it. They were able to find enough intelligence to get the coordinates of the remaining time bubbles. And right now they're going through and scanning and closing them all.
So I don't think that we have to worry. I don't think that we have to worry. I think this is it's a one and done and now just given the Treaty of Eridani and the fact that the Dark Fleet is being taken out all across the galaxy, it really is the anchoring and we didn't get into this too much, but it's the anchoring of because we're able to remove the Dark Fleet now. This is the anchoring of the timeline where there's going to be galactic peace and harmony. And I know that's a big zoom out, but I think for us here on Earth we still have some ways to go. We're not totally in the clear, but this what happened ultimately in a nutshell is probably going to be the end of what we're going to see from anything from the Dark Fleet. So that's I'm hopeful.

DR. SALLA: Okay, so what this failed attack has done is that that negative timeline where the German Dark Fleet and the Draconians had taken over the Earth, the moon, Mars and use that as the kind of like focal point for a galactic white tyranny that Alex Collier and the Andromedans warned about. That that negative timeline that's pretty much dissolved now and that this failed attack has only accelerated that.

And what's left now is this positive timeline where there's going to be galactic peace. And as you mentioned, this Epsilon Eridani agreement is a major step forward and that the remaining Dark Fleet forces that are largely outside of our solar system. Now they are being hunted down because they miscalculated and they contravened this major treaty. And so now they become, I guess, targets for extraterrestrial civilizations that have scores to settle.

KATHARINE: 100%. So ultimately, in spite of the tragedy, it's a really good thing in terms of where we are as Earth and as a galactic society. We're going on to a more positive timeline.

DR. SALLA: Awesome. So what can we now expect from you being in touch with the Space Force on the moon? Can we expect you to get more updates and tell us what's really going on up there?

KATHARINE: Oh, 100%. I mean, again, I didn't anticipate being authorized to give this message today. They want me to reread your book and take notes. And I have to get, I really have to catch up to speed on a lot of their operations up there. But I am in communication with them very often.

And anytime they give me an update and authorize me to share it, they want me to share it with you. They did this specifically for you. They know that you're in touch with the Alabama Future Headquarters of Space Command. And they'd like to offer any of the intel. I'm just going to give it to you first. And if you would like to put it out on your channel, that's what they would be grateful for. They're big fans of yours and they really trust you.

DR. SALLA: So awesome. Well, I'm very happy to hear that. So I look forward to talking to you in the future and getting any more updates the Space Force. I want us to learn about and I'll certainly get the word out as quickly as I can on my networks. So I want to thank you, Katharine, for coming on the show and really appreciate this very important information.

KATHARINE: Okay, thank you so much, Michael. I appreciate you extending your platform so that we can share it and get the truth to humanity.

DR. SALLA: Awesome. Thank you. Okay.
